BREED THEATER. "The Battle," Today's Powerful Feature Picture.

The magnificent story of The Battle, The magnificent story of The Battle, the gigantic Biograph film success, is as wholesome and interesting as any literature of the day, and enacted amid charming southern surroundings the story very naturally weaves itself into our beings with a tenacity that refuses to release us until we have seen the young hero through all his trying ordeals, which result in his being procealined the leader of the forces, which position he proves by his actions, he is amply fitted for.

In the days of '61 how many of the brave soldiers were urged to deeds of

In the days of '61 how many of the brave soldiers were urged to deeds of valor and heroism by thoughts of 'the girl he left behind." This story tells of the transforming of a weak-hearted coward into a lion-hearted zero by the derision of the girl he loved. The battle takes place outside her home and ha panic stricken, rushes in trembling with fear, to hide. She laughs him to so back and fight. Her fortitude inspires him and be manages to rejoin his company before his absence is noticed. Ammunition is low and somebody must take the hazardous journey to procure more from snother regiment, which he volunteers to do. This undertaking cannot be described adequately, for the young man faces death at every turn. The wounded colonel has been carried to the home of the young officer's sweetheart and from there dictates his corders. The weak-hearted soldier, in to the bome of the young officer's sweetheart and from there dictates his orders. The weak-hearted soldier, in assuming the task to secure the extra armunition, proves his genuine heroism, as the ammunition once secured, is subject to attack by the confederates at every turn, and to completely destroy it they build huge bonfires in the roads where the ammunition must be carried, and as the first driver fearlessly approaches the first solves for an barries of powder and the first wagon is soon in atoms. The young officer assumes charge of the next wagon and after waiting until the fires had subsided somewhat drove through in safety and appears on the field in time to save the hattle and establishing himself as the hero of the battle.

Saved His Wife's Life.

"My wife would have been in her grave today," writes O. H. Brown of Muscadine, Ala., "if it had not been for Dr. King's New Psicovery. She was down in her bed, not able to get up without help. She had a severe bronchial trouble and a dreadful cough. I got her a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, and she soon began to mend, and was well in a short time." Infallible for coughs and coids, it's the most reliable remedy on earth for desperate luns trouble, hemorrhage, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup and whooping cough. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free, Guaranteed by Lee & Osgood Co. Saved His Wife's Life.

Lightning Kills Few. Lightning Kills Few.

In 1966 lightning killed only 169 people in this whole country. One's chances of death by lightning are less than two in a million. The chances of death from liyer, kidney or stomach trouble is vastly greater, but not if Electric Bitters be used, as Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, ia., proved. Four doctors gave him up after eight months of suffering from virulent liver trouble and yellow jaundice. He was thea completely cured by Electric Bitters. They're the best stomach, liver, nerve and kidney remedy and blood purifier on earth. Only 50c at Lee & Osgood Co.'s.

M'NAMARA'S SECRETARY ys She Never Saw Anything to In-dicate They Were Dynamiters.

Pittsburgh, Dec. 11.—"I was probably more surprised than anyone elsewhen the McNamaras were arrested and I was shocked beyond measure when the telegram came to me that they had confessed to charges agains them," said Miss Mary Dye, former confidential secretary to John J. McNamara, at the headquarters of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in Indianapolis, teday. Miss Dye is employed as stenographer by a large electrical company in Pittsburgh, having come here from Indianapolis in January of 1910.

"I have known the McNamara boys all iny life," she continued. "They were like brothers to me. I was confidential secretary to John, Joe, as we called him, for his middle name is Joseph, and I never saw anything that looked like a dynamite conspiracy. In fact, I operated the business of the association by myself as long as six weeks, and never anything in the way of correspondence passed through my hands which savored of plans to destroy life and property. There were mo papers or anything else to show they were dynamiters. All the business of the structural iron workers was done within the organization, and I don't see how it is possible to bring Samuel Gompers or any others into this thing.

"I had access to the safe; in fact, thing.

"I had access to the safe; in fact, Mr. McNamara and myself were the only persons who could open it, and I never saw a thing there that looked like a dynamite plot or any papers relating to anything of that kind."

Miss Dye has not yet been subpoensed for the federal grand jury investigating the alleged nation-wide dynamite plot at Indianapolis.

FOR POSTPONEMENT OF THE RICHESON TRIAL

Counsel for Defense to Argue Question Before Judge Sanderson.

Boston, Dec. 11.—An effort was made today by the attorneys for Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, charged with the murder of Miss Avis Linnell, to have the trial postponed from January 15, the date fixed by the court, until later in the winter, and on Wednesday next Judge Sanderson of the superior court will hear arguments on the question.

The lawyers who are now recognized as coursel for the accused clergyman are former State Senator William A. Morse and Philip R. Dunbar, both of this city, and John L. Lee of Lynchburg, Vt. These three held an hour's conference with Chief Justice. Alken of the superior court, the result of which was kept secret. Then the lawyers went over to the district attorney's office, where they were closeted for two hours with Mr. Pelletter, who is expected to take charge of the government's case against Richeson. At the conclusion of the second conference it was stated that an agreement had been reached to submit the question to Judge Sanderson, who is sitting on the criminal side of the court on Wednesiay forencon.

It is understood that Richeson's lawyers declared that they had not had sufficient time to prepare a defense and would not be ready for two or three months.
